Tidbit

Vermonters have been boiling maple syrup for centuries-Native Americans in the region used maple syrup for both food and medicine. Today, it continues to be a staple in our region and is one of the most versatile and delicious ways to sweeten dishes. Drizzle syrup on pancakes, incorporate into a vinaigrette or sauce, or substitute maple syrup for sugar or honey in any recipe.

Mini-activities

- Observe and taste different grades of maple syrup—-which is the darkest? Which has the strongest flavor?
- Compare Vermont maple syrup to fake syrup—check ingredient labels and identify similarities and differences between the two
- Maple challenge—have students come up with a fun recipe showcasing syrup and vote on the most creative dish

Kid-friendly Cooking Tips

- Substitute maple syrup for white sugar in baked goods—decrease the liquid in your recipe by 2-4 Tbsp for each cup of syrup used
- Drizzle vegetables with maple syrup before roasting
- Sweeten homemade vinaigrette dressing with maple syrup
- Stir syrup into plain yogurt for a sweet treat

Selection Tip

- Lighter-colored syrup is best for topping pancakes and yogurt, save dark syrup for baking
- Information on the new maple syrup grades can be found on the Vermont Maple Syrup Makers Association website: http://vermontmaple.org/

Storage Tips

- Unopened containers of maple syrup can be stored in a cool, dry location but should be refrigerated once opened
- Maple syrup can be frozen—its consistency will be liquid but difficult to pour until defrosted

Benefits

- Compared to white sugar, maple syrup has lower sucrose content
- Maple syrup contains a number of minerals including calcium, iron, and potassium
Maple Granola

Yield: 20 cups, 80 1⁄4 cup servings

Ingredients:
- 18 cups old fashioned oats
- 1 cup raisins
- 1 cup dried apple slices
- 2 1⁄2 Tbsp. ground cinnamon
- 2 cups vegetable oil
- 2 cups maple syrup

Directions:
1. Preheat oven to 350 °F.
2. Combine all dry ingredients, except dried fruit, and stir until everything is well distributed. Add oil first and maple syrup, and stir until well combined.
3. Pour out onto a large rimmed cookie sheet and place in oven. Bake for 15-20 minutes, stirring every five minutes to ensure that granola cooks evenly.
4. Granola is done when it is browned and crispy. Remove from the oven. Mix in dried fruit.

Roasted Roots with Maple Glaze

Yield: 50 1⁄2 cup servings

Ingredients:
- 12 lbs mixed root vegetables
- Canola or olive oil
- Salt and pepper, to taste

Glaze Ingredients:
- 1⁄4 cup maple syrup
- 1⁄4 cup butter

Directions:
1. Preheat oven to 400°F.
2. Wash vegetables and chop into chunks/bite-sized pieces.
3. Toss with just enough oil to coat, plus salt and pepper.
4. Arrange in a single layer on a sheet pan.
5. Roast for 45 minutes or until tender, stirring occasionally.
6. While the veggies roast, prepare your glaze in a small saucepan. Melt butter on low heat, then stir in maple syrup. As soon as they are combined, turn off heat.
7. Top roasted veggies with glaze, and serve hot.
